

The only thing that is better than having banner ads that advertise your company, is to have an entire online travel guide customized in your company's colors and logos. MJ Guides has developed a method for companies to capture all of the valuable listings in MJ Guides listings, but display the guide to their users in their own colors and logos. Under this process, MJ Guides develops a complete set of guides in that company's markings, but displays the infinite number of listings already located within MJ Guides. Essentially, they get the robustness of MJ Guides, mixed with their own personalized touch.
